PROFILE

I have a degree in Information Systems and despite having been away from the field for a while I still have a strong foundation in programming. I went back to studying about 1 year ago and I believe I'm ready to work as a programmer. While studying my focus has been on my own end-to-end projects (front and back). But mostly I've been delving into Reactjs, Nextjs, Typescript, MUI and Tailwind at the moment.

TODAY

Site I'm developing alongside a nutritionist. Its made in Nextjs + MUI + Supabase. The point is to provide data and econometric equations for Health professionals on the field.

PROJECTS

Adaminter.org

DECEMBER - 2021

Final project of my web development course at Harvard that I decided to deploy, I set up a server at Oracle (I used Nginx) and hosted it there. It was made with primitive Reactjs and plain css.
